Library News

We are proud to announce that EZProxy is now up and running, thanks to the hard work of Sammy and Laura. The proxy server will allow the user to access all our databases except FirstSearch from remote locations using your Lambuth ID number and last name. If you have an old card with an obsolete number or have no card, please contact us, and we will give you your correct ID number. If you access the databases from on campus, you will not need a password; the server will automatically reroute the request. FirstSearch searches must be limited to faculty and advance students only, because they cost $1.00 per search. Therefore, you will receive a reminder email for that password. To access the databases from home, simply go to the Lambuth library website and choose "Find Articles." You will be taken to a list of databases. Choose a database, and it is at this point that you will be asked for your ID and last name if accessing from off campus. We hope this server will make it easier for you and your students to find full-text articles.

All books received by the Lambuth-B'Nai Center for Jewish Studies have now been cataloged and are available in our library's online catalog. The 400+ books are related to equal rights, genocide, and the Holocaust. The Center for Jewish Studies recently received a check for $2500 from the National Foundation for Jewish Culture to sponsor "Cultural Response to Fiddler on the Roof," presented by Prof. Stephen Whitfield, Max Richter Professor of American Civilization at Brandeis University. The program will be held on Saturday, December 10, at 7:30 p.m., in the program center of the Jackson-Madison County Public Library.

CARE Book Sale

The Center for Adult Reading and Enrichment (CARE) book sale is going on this week in The Galleria (180 L Old Hickory Blvd., Old Blockbuster Building). The hours are as follows: Monday-Friday (11/7-11) – 10:00-7:30; Saturday (11/12) – 10:00-5:00.

New Books Cataloged in Government Documents

In an ongoing effort to make more resources available to you and your students, Paige is working to catalog the thousands of items in our Government Documents depository. We invite you to take advantage of this service. In addition to paper resources, you will find an excellent access point on our library webpage for legal, census, immigration, and other government-related items. Some materials cataloged this month include:

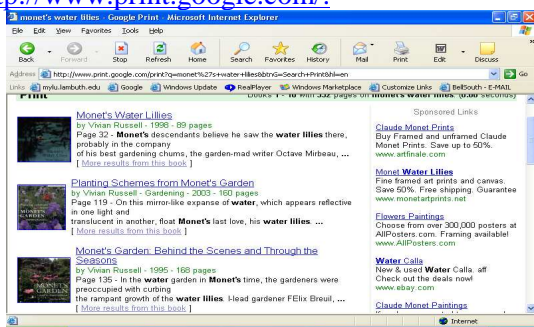

- 1990 and 2000 census records
- Foreign trade statistics
- Welcome to the United States: a guide for new immigrants (electronic resource)
- Potential changes in ground-water flow and their effects on the ecology and water resources of the Cape Cod National Seashore, MA
- Records management handbook for U.S. Senate committees
- Federal election campaign laws
- Department of Homeland Security's budget submission for fiscal year
- Money laundering and foreign corruption: enforcement and effectiveness of the Patriot Act
- Islamic extremism
- Immigration and the alien gang epidemic: problems and solutions

Web Resources on the Library's Homepage

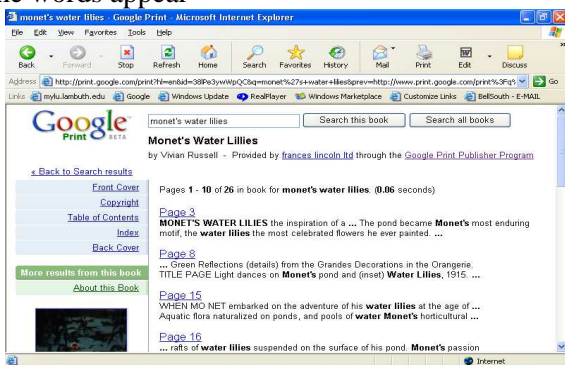

Sammy has added a number of Web resources to the library's homepage. To access, click on "Find Articles" and "selected websites" in the top paragraph of the page. You will find such interesting sites as American Memory (Library of Congress), Congressional Quarterly's Campaigns and Elections, Census Bureau subjects, Civil War sites, Criminal Justice sites, Einstein Archives online, free medical journals, Internet Public Library, Making of America, Nature back issues, Statistics of U.S. Business, telephone directories, and legal and citation help. Check it out!

And Speaking of the Web . . .

This week after much controversy and threats of lawsuits, Google published its first 10,000 public domain books, scanned from collections at University of Michigan, Stanford, Harvard, the New York Public Library, and Oxford. To access these books, go to <http://www.print.google.com/>.

By clicking on [More results from this book], you get a list of all the places in the book where the words appear –

Amazon.com responded by announcing that it will allow customers to buy electronic versions of books online, as little as one page at a time. For more information, see the article posted at

Book Signing, November 11

Lambuth alum Dr. Joan Hartman (1957) will talk about and sign her new children's book, Sam's Special Cookie, in the library on Friday, November 11, at 3:30 p.m. Dr. Hartman currently serves as Supervisor of Federal Programs in Lauderdale County's schools. The book is illustrated by alum Jessica Baker, Class of 2004, who is now a free-lance artist in Nashville.

Professional Development and Workshops

Pam Dennis attended the southeast regional chapter conference of the Music Library Association in Memphis on October 28-29. She also serves on the planning committee for the national MLA conference to be held in Memphis in February.

Sammy Chapman, Laura Simpson, Rex West, and Pam Dennis attended the West Tennessee Academic Library Consortium meeting at the University of Tennessee at Martin on November 5.

Upcoming Public Library Events

December 1, noon – Charline McCord and Judy Tucker will talk about their new anthology A Dixie Christmas. The Jackson Symphony Piano Trio will perform Christmas music afterwards.

December 6, 6:00 p.m. – To coincide with the release of the movie, "The Lion, the Witch, and the Wardrobe," Dr. Hal Poe will present a program on C.S. Lewis, the creator of Narnia.

December 12, 6:00 p.m. – Enjoy the 1945 classic movie, "Christmas in Connecticut," starring Barbara Stanwyck.

Happy Thanksgiving
